News Update - Takelog, Brazil

TAKELOG

This report was released a few days before the election in US but provides a good and simple overview about what we may (or may not) expect from Biden administration in regard to the Brazilian economy.

Brazil's strategic importance to the United States has diminished since the 1970s. Back then, the Americans adopted a more protectionist policy concerning agricultural and manufactured products exported by Brazilians.

This stance has not changed much over the past five decades, regardless of whether a Republican or Democrat occupies the White House. Eventual advances in favor of Brazil came from negotiating through the Itamaraty, and Palácio do Planalto. The current election may be historic in many ways, but it will hardly change that balance.

The analysis is from those who follow the commercial relations between the two countries. Looking ahead, Brazil's role grows.

Donald Trump's stay would be a bit of a repeat of what has been seen in recent years. A Joe Biden victory, in turn, even has the potential to change the scenario for the better, expanding trade relations between Brazil and the USA - but only if the Brazilian government adopts a more pragmatic and aligned foreign policy on issues such as the environment and foreign trade.

If you have any request or doubt please let us know.

Achieving New Milestone with Joint Venture—Cargo transport System, Australia

International Customs & Logistics

We are excited to announce some recent changes that have occurred within Cargo Transport Systems (CTS) and ICL International (ICL) businesses.

Over the last six months the directors of both organisations have been exploring the opportunity of merging their respective businesses to ensure that they offer their clients, market leading services across the whole logistics chain. This merger was finalised on 30 November 2020.

Although CTS and ICL will continue to operate independently initially, customers will gain immediate benefit via access to the additional, complimenting areas of expertise that are available within each organisation. The ICL staff have relocated into the CTS premises at 3 Viola Place, Brisbane Airport. Ultimately the blended business will offer a stronger, integrated approach with a real focus on excellence in customer service.

I am pleased to advise that all Directors of CTS will continue in their roles and will be involved in the amalgamated business on a day to day basis. Cameron Deacon has retained an ownership interest in the merged organisation and will continue to work in a fulltime capacity as Group General Manager. Greg MacDonald has taken on a consultancy role and will offer his much-valued experience to both existing and new customers.

We are all looking forward to discussing a logistics solution for your business.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

On behalf of the Directors of both CTS and ICL, thank you for your ongoing support and we look forward to establishing an even stronger working relationship moving forward.

We hope you have a safe and enjoyable festive season and wish you every success in 2021.

Kind Regards,

Scott Rossow
