THE AVIATION INDUSTRY SHRINKS PASSENGER AIRCRAFT AND INCREASE TO CARGO USE

The fourth quarter of the air cargo market is the traditional peak season, to make up for the shortcomings of all-cargo aircraft, many airlines have "temporarily" sent passenger planes to assist in cargo loading. Emirates SkyCargo is a good example to bring up, from mid-April, it has adjusted the seats in the Boeing 777 and the luggage rack above so that cargo can also be stored in the cabin. The change of using space improves the efficiency of a single flight, more urgently needed materials can reach the destination faster, ensuring that every flight can maintain commercial use.

Moreover, airlines have raised prices to seize the urgent market demand, using this opportunity to fill up for losses at the beginning of the year. Since there are many festivals between October and December, many urgent bookings appear. To successfully catch up with the Christmas and New Year holidays, it is necessary to distribute the goods in advance. Airfreight is working well while sea freight works greater than it; when the two freight grows together, the market will face a crowding effect. The shortage in container and increase in ocean freight rates have affected the companies to reconsider transportation. As the price difference has become smaller, the shipper assesses whether to use air freight or not, making the air freight rate to the United States better than expected.

IMPORTANT NOTIFICATION :
ECU KENYA*NOTICE ON MANIFEST DECONSOLIDATION FOR AIR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

Kenyan Customs have recently initiated changes in manifest deconsolidation for consolidated Air shipments when they arrive in Kenya.

Initially, only ground cargo handlers (customs sheds) were authorized to deconsolidate MAWB manifest nos. to HAWB manifest nos.

The task has been shifted from CGH (Cargo Ground Handlers) to breakbulk agents like ourselves (ECU WORLDWIDE). We will be tasked with processing the deconsolidation through customs.

In the past, origin office used to include ECU WW Kenya PIN (Personal Identification Number): P051115344R on the Master Airway Bill (MAWB) and type respective consignee PIN Number on the House Airway Bill (HAWB) as a matter of procedure to enable the destination Cargo Ground Handlers (CGH) to process manifest deconsolidation with customs.

Going forward, origin offices are required to capture PIN details online, when submitting the electronic data interface (EDI) to the airline; with ECU WW Kenya PIN No. on the MAWB & Actual consignee PIN Numbers on the HAWB before the shipment is airlifted.

This is to ensure that we are able to deliver consignments within the stipulated free days without having to seek amendments which takes a day or two thereby delaying deliveries and which can result in customs fines and penalties of not less than US$ 1000.00.

Please take note of this and do get back to me should you need any clarification on this matter.

Thanks for your cooperation.

Kind regards,
Joram Isika

Current Impact of Coronavirus in Brazil - Windlog Brazil

CURRENT CONSEQUENCES OF CORONAVIRUS IN BRAZIL

The current international logistics situation is influencing Brazilian Exporters and Importers and it is impacting the final customers too. The world recovering from post-pandemic, increasing the consumption and demand for transportation, we are living a moment where we see the lack of availability of containers and the increase of the sea freight costs.

This situation is not only in Brazil. The North, Central and South America, Europe and China are currently experiencing the logistic problems, due to the interruption of the supply chain for some months.

During the peak of the Coronavirus in China, they were not receiving shipments at the Ports and Airports, and so they cancelled many flights and vessels.

OVERVIEW - SEA SHIPMENT

As demand for transportation increased, carriers regulated the supply of ships to pre-pandemic levels. However, from August onwards demand became much higher than supply, accumulating cargo and freight increased a lot.

OVERVIEW - AIR SHIPMENT

For the airfreight shipment, the situation was different. With the reduction of flights, the airfreight value increased by almost 300%. This is due to the great demand for the transport of necessary products for the Covid-19. This demand is already over, but the average airfreight value has not yet stabilized.

Our main recommendation is to anticipate international logistics planning, and book the vessel space as soon as you have the shipment details. Regarding the airfreights, it is necessary to keep in mind that delays can happen and it is necessary to inform the clients.

About Windlog

Windlog is one of the main logistics companies in Brazilian market. With more than 5000 clients, 10 offices in the whole country and international agents around the world.
