Accelerated growth in cargo volumes: up 72% in April

The very good start of the year with strong growth in cargo volumes continued and even accelerated through April, largely due to the high demand for air cargo across Europe.

Contrary to the passenger figures, cargo volumes are compared to the 2020 figures as the COVID pandemic has had only a limited impact on cargo volumes in 2020. The growth of air freight compared to 2020 is remarkable in all segments, in the integrator segment (+55%), the full-freighter segment (+59%) and even in belly cargo, which rebounded from very low volumes in April 2020 (+492%).

In the full-freighter segment, Brussels Airport records general growth in the activities of all existing clients.

Four new cargo carriers have come to strengthen the logistics platform at Brussels Airport by opening new routes to Asia: Azul, Japan Airlines, SpiceJet and China Central Longhao Airlines. The activity in the integrator segment structurally remains at a higher level than in previous years thanks to the strong increase in online purchases.

Since the start of 2021, we were able to welcome four new airlines at BRUcargo. Our first new guest is Azul Linhas Aéreas Brasileiras and is flying automotive cargo to and from the tropical Sao Paulo. Japan Airlines is doing vaccine flights to Kansai, and is the second airline after ANA that is connecting Belgium to the land of the rising sun.

Spicejet Airlines is connecting Brussels to India and last but not least, China Central Longhao Airlines is enforcing the cargo capacity between Belgium and Zhengzhou in China.

As of the 31st May 2021 this will be the end of what seemed to be a “very lengthy” BMSB season. Until next time....
For those who don't know what a Brown Marmorated Stink bug is, here is a picture:

They are known for being a voracious feeder that damages vegetable crops, fruit and ornamental trees. It is known to feed on more than 300 hosts, including important agricultural crops, such as: apples.

It appears the past few years the BMSB Season has been extended. Next seasons BMSB is set to commence on the 1st of September 2021. We will have to wait until further information is released if the same target risk countries apply or if this will be changed in the upcoming season. Once the BMSB season 2021-2022 dates are confirmed with will send through and updated broadcast.

Please do not hesitate to contact should you have any queries or questions.
